

Ἀνατόλιος Ἀλεξανδρεύς

Anatolius of Alexandria on the Decade and Its Numbers

eul_aid: uak

Period: Ὀψιμαρχαία Late Antique
Dialect: Κοινή φιλοσοφική Philosophical Koine
Domain: Μαθηματικά Mathematics
Format: Πραγματεία Treatise
Affiliation: Christian

Anatolius of Alexandria was a Christian scholar, mathematician, and bishop in the late 3rd century CE. A native of Alexandria, he was celebrated for his expertise in arithmetic, geometry, and astronomy. According to ancient sources, he served as the head of the Aristotelian school in his city before becoming a bishop, first in Caesarea and later in Laodicea in Syria. His career illustrates the combination of classical education and Christian leadership during this period.

Only one of his works survives, a treatise titled On the Decade and the Numbers Within It, which examines the properties of the numbers one through ten. This work is preserved not as a complete text, but within a later compilation known as the Theologumena Arithmeticae. Modern scholars note that the treatise blends mathematical theory with philosophical and theological symbolism, reflecting the Neopythagorean interests of the time. His other writings, mentioned by ancient historians, are lost.

Anatolius is a significant figure for understanding the transmission of Greek knowledge into the early Christian world. As a bishop who was also a professional philosopher and mathematician, he represents a key channel through which classical learning was preserved and adapted. His surviving work provides a direct glimpse into how number theory was used for both scientific and symbolic purposes in late antiquity.

Works (1)

- Περὶ δεκάδος καὶ τῶν ἐντὸς αὐτῆς ἀριθμῶν · On the Decade and the Numbers Within It · 12 passages

Other Christian Authors

- Αἰνείας ὁ Γαζαῖος · Aeneas of Gaza · 2 works
- Ἀθηναγόρας ὁ Ἀθηναῖος · Athenagoras of Athens · 2 works
- Βούθηρος · Butherus · 1 work
- Κλήμης ὁ Ἀλεξανδρεύς · Clement of Alexandria · 5 works
- Εὐσέβιος ὁ Καίσαρειας · Eusebius of Caesarea · 7 works
- Ἱππόλυτος ὁ Ῥωμαῖος · Hippolytus of Rome · 13 works
- Ἰωάννης ὁ Φιλόπονος · John Philoponus of Alexandria · 11 works
- Νεμέσιος ὁ Ἐμέσης · Nemesius of Emesa · 1 work
- Ὠριγένης ὁ Ἀλεξανδρεύς · Origen of Alexandria · 25 works

- Σεντεντιῶν Σέκστου · Sententiae Sexti · 1 work
- Τατιανὸς ὁ Ἀσσύριος · Tatian the Assyrian · 1 work
- Θεοδώρητος ὁ Κύρρου · Theodoret of Cyrus · 7 works