Boïdas the Philologist is not recorded in standard scholarly references. Searches of major encyclopedias and digital libraries for ancient philosophy and biography yield no results for this name.

No specific works are attributed to Boïdas in the consulted sources. Metadata suggests he compiled a single philosophical collection, but its title and contents are unattested.

Boïdas the Philologist is absent from the historical record. If he existed, this absence suggests he was a minor figure, his works were lost early, or the name is a variant of another.
