

Late Antique Lives of Marcian in the Aristotle Compilation

eul_aid: tuq

Period: Ὀψιμαρχαία Late Antique

Dialect: Κοινή Koine

Domain: Βίος Biography

Format: Πεζός Prose

The author or compiler of the work known as Aristotle Lives is anonymous. This biographical compilation was produced during the Late Antique period, between the 4th and 6th centuries CE. This era was marked by the systematization and commentary on classical Greek texts within both pagan and early Christian scholarly milieus.

The corpus consists of two biographical works concerning Aristotle, as indicated by the title. The specific contents, titles, and current status of these two texts are not detailed in standard reference works.

The existence of Aristotle Lives underscores the enduring engagement with Aristotle's legacy in Late Antiquity. Such biographical compilations were instrumental in preserving anecdotes and interpretations of his life, thereby facilitating the transmission of his philosophical authority into subsequent Byzantine and Arabic scholarly traditions.

Works (2)

- Κοινὸς Βίος · Common Life · 19 passages
- Βίος Μαρκιανοῦ · Life of Marcian · 22 passages