

Γρύλλος ὁ Ἀθηναῖος

Heracles and the Comic Fragments of Gryllus of Athens

eul_aid: cgw

Period: Κλασική Classical

Dialect: Ἀττική Attic

Domain: Ποίησις Poetry

Format: Ἑμμετρος Verse

Gryllus of Athens was a poet of Athenian Old Comedy, active in the 4th century BCE. He is known solely from a single verse fragment cited by the later compiler Athenaeus in his Deipnosophistae. No biographical details of his life are preserved beyond his identification as an Athenian.

His work survives only as a one-line fragment from an unnamed comedy, preserved by Athenaeus. The line describes a type of bread or cake called a kribanē.

Gryllus is a minor, fragmentary author representative of the many lost poets of Old Comedy. Such fragments are valuable to scholars for the incidental light they shed on daily life, material culture, and language in classical Athens.

Works (1)

- Ἀπόσπασμα · Heracles and the Mime in Contest · 24 passages